

Glenandera Merino Wool

Shearing at "Glenandera" Purdeet, in Victoria's Western District, Australia

Glenandera property

The Merino sheep have been mustered, ready for shearing

Shearing takes place in August at the Glenandera Woolshed

Two shearers, one roustabout, one wool classer

The wool is taken off with electric shears

The roustabout preparing to pick up the fleece

Colin Mirtschin, owner of Glenandera, skirts the Merino fleece

The Merino fleece is rolled and ready to be classed

The Merino fleece is classed and placed into the appropriate wool bin

The wool is pressed into bales, branded and ready to be shipped

